The Mission Viejo Nadadores will host the 1978 National AAU Diving Championships Aug. 2 through Aug. 6.
Lake business is booming

Business is good at Lake Mission Viejo. So good, in fact, that Lake Mission Viejo Association membership personnel can hardly keep up with the demand.

"Since Lake Mission Viejo opened, the membership office has been swamped with calls from homeowners who are eager to join," Ron Bora, general manager of lake operations said.

The five-person membership staff has been working overtime to handle the high volume of appointments and inquiries; however, it is impossible to accommodate everyone’s appointment requests immediately, Bora explained.

The current waiting time for an evening or late afternoon appointment to join the association is about three weeks, while morning or early afternoon appointments can be scheduled within one or two days.

Lake Association officials anticipate that several thousand families will wish to join this summer. Applications can be processed at a rate of 300 to 400 each month.

"We realize that people are eager to join the Lake Association especially now that summer is here. We are asking that they try to be patient and bear with us," he said.

The lake is owned and operated by the Lake Mission Viejo Association, Inc., a California non-profit corporation. Membership is limited to homeowners within the planned community of Mission Viejo.

Buyers of virtually all new residential properties built within the planned community will automatically become Lake Association members.

Prospective members must make an appointment to join by calling 837-3172. All owners shown on the deed to the property must be present at the membership orientation, which takes about one hour. Prospects must bring their property deed to the meeting, as well as personal identification.

Normally, processing takes approximately one week, according to Bora. When the membership process is complete, members will receive a copy of the recorded documents with membership ID cards and other association materials.

A one-time $25 fee for processing membership applications is charged. Initial association dues are $7 per month, (Continued on page 3).

Try Saddleback

If your group or organization needs a place to call home, you might consider Saddleback College as a temporary landlord.

Facilities on the 200-acre Mission Viejo campus are available for rental use by community groups, agencies and organizations when not engaged for regular academic or community services activities, according to college Master Calendar Facilitator Barbara Belcher.

Rental rates vary depending on the facility, Mrs. Belcher explained, adding that an information packet is available which includes policies and rental procedures, campus maps and a fee schedule.

The college currently is the meeting place for a number of community clubs and athletic organizations and welcomes inquiries from other interested groups. Further information is available by writing or calling Mrs. Belcher in the community services office at Saddleback, located in Library Room 324.

Designed for family enjoyment, association facilities include a large sand beach with volleyball courts, lifeguard stations and a buoyed swimming area with floating rafts. The landscaped picnic area overlooking the beach is equipped with picnic tables, barbecues and open play areas.

Boat launching and limited dry storage facilities are available, or members may rent boats from the association fleet.

Anglers may fish from a specially designed shoreline fishing area adjacent to the marina, or from boats.

It is also the story of Sally Bowles, a reckless, restless young woman with whom Cliff becomes involved and who introduces him to the gay but dangerous life of Berlin.

Fall semester classes nearing at college

Fall semester classes at Saddleback College are slated to begin the week of Aug. 28 on the Mission Viejo campus and at nearly 60 sites throughout the community.

The college admission office currently is accepting applications and issuing registration appointments to continuing, new and returning students. Interested persons are encouraged to apply as early as possible in the admissions center, located on the first floor of the college library.

There is no application fee and no tuition for California residents. The only charge is a $5 student health services fee, payable at the time of registration.

Courses offered by the two-year community college may be taken to fulfill requirements for transfer to four-year colleges and universities in preparation for a baccalaureate degree, to satisfy requirements for a two-year associate in arts degree or a one-year vocational certificate offered by Saddleback College, or for personal enrichment or professional growth.

Luebke purchase first Tres Vistas home site

Ronald Luebke and his family had been waiting seven years for it to happen. Finally, on June 24, all those years of dreaming and planning became reality for the Mission Viejo family when they purchased the first Tres Vistas custom home site offered at Lake Mission Viejo.

The occasion was special for the Mission Viejo Company as well. Tres Vistas are the first custom lots to be offered in the 10,000-acre planned community, and it was the first time the developer ever sold property by auction.

The Luebke’s were among nearly 300 prospective buyers who gathered before the auctioneer’s podium at the Tres Vistas plaza area. Within three hours all of the 59 sites had been auctioned for a total value of $7,534,500.

“Seven years of waiting!” Bonnie Luebke exclaimed jubilantly as the licensed auctioneer proclaimed the lot sold.

“We’ve been looking forward to this ever since we first heard of the lake seven years ago,” she explained later. “From that day on it (a lake front home) was all we thought about.”

“We knew it would be expensive, so we started building our equity,” her husband added. “We kept trading up. Only in Mission Viejo can you do that so well.”

Area residents who have not met the Luebke family already, probably have read about them in the local papers.

Three of the four daughters, Missie, 12; Caroline, 13 and Debbie, 19, hold beauty titles; and Stephanie, 21, a political science major at the University of Southern California, fills her spare time as a fashion model.

Ron Luebke, a former beauty queen herself, is an interior decorator.

Ron Luebke is president of the American Machinry and Engineering Corp., a firm he founded in Mission Viejo when he moved his family to the planned community.

And son Ron, 17, is planning to study mechanical engineering and architecture, and eventually to join his father’s business.

The family, which now occupies a country style home they have planned, is eager to complete construction of the French country style home they have planned.

HOME GROWN WINNER—Carl Glassford of Mission Viejo, has won the theme “Home Grown” award in the Fine Arts Department at the Orange County Fair for the second year in a row with his pen and ink drawing of race car driver Dan Gurney.
Buoyed up by Jenni Chandler's recent Swedish Cup victory, the as yet untried Mission Viejo Nadadores Diving Team is looking to sweep the AAU National Outdoor Diving Championships at its home pool in the Mission Viejo International Swim Complex, Aug. 2-6.

Head diving coach Ron O'Brien is counting on performances by men's team members Greg Louganis and Dave Burgering and by female divers Jenni Chandler and Debbie Wilson to give the fledgling team a strong showing in their national debut.

Olympic Silver Medalist Greg Louganis will have a strong bid in the 10-meter platform. In fact, with the retirement of the legendary Italian diver Klaus Dilllis, Louganis is considered platform diving's heir apparent. A win at Nationals will also put him on the U.S. team to the World Games, Aug. 19-29, in West Berlin.

The Nadadores' strongest men's three-meter contestant is Dave Burgering, the 1978 Canada Cup victor.

On the distaff side Jenni Chandler, the Nadadores' import from Birmingham, Alabama, is the unquestionable favorite in women's three-meter springboard competition. Since winning the Gold Medal in Montreal for springboard, she also picked up the most recent national championship. Chandler is also expected to have a strong showing in the one-meter springboard, for which she's the national defending champion.

With the likes of Gold Medalist Phil Boggs and defending ten-meter champion Melissa Britley at Nationals, the Nadadores are not home yet. But, if youthful enthusiasm and beginner's luck come into play, they're on their way.

Tickets for Nationals are available now from Art Villalovos, 27341 Trabuco Place, Mission Viejo, CA 92692. Meet passes for the five-day event are $10 per person. One-day tickets, including entrance to prelims and finals, are $3. Children under eight accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

Tickets will also be offered at the gate.

LMV Sailing Club to elect first slate of officers

Mission Viejo Lake Association's Sailing Club will be electing its first slate of officers at its Aug. 4 meeting.

Members are requested to gather at 8 p.m. in the snack bar area of the lake.

The sailing club encompasses all of the fleets and the junior program.

In addition to the monthly sailing meetings, the individual fleet clubs (Omegas, Lido 14s) gather regularly.

According to Larry Eaks, sailing instructor, the club is planning to hold one major regatta a month plus a weekly 'twilight series' (short race) each Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m. He added that a monthly pot luck will follow a twilight series.

Billy Day defeats Louganis in meet

Mission Viejo Nadadores diver Billy Day defeated Olympic Silver Medalist Greg Louganis in the open men's 10-meter platform competition during the California State and Open Diving Championships.

Louganis is also a member of the Nadadores' Diving Team.

During the diving meet held at Edison High School in Huntington Beach and Marguerite Recreation Center five other Nadadores took home awards.

In the 13 to 14-year-old boys division, Tim O'Brien took home first place in the three-meter springboard competition. Rob Bliner won the 10-meter event in his 15 to 16-year-old division.

Other first place winners were: Jean Meyer, 1 and 3-meter springboard events; Kelly Magee, 10-meter platform event, and Beth Gerard, open 10-meter event.
