This spring chicken may have been April fooled — but Easter eggs have been known to be found in some pretty out-of-the-way places. Children who are members of Mission Viejo Recreation Centers are invited to Marguerite Recreation Center to look in all of its out-of-the-way spots for Easter eggs April 9. Details on page seven.
Mission Viejo residents can provide Water Guards for every bathroom.

The average Mission Viejo family of four can save about 20,000 gallons of water per year, thanks to a free water conservation offer from Mission Viejo Company. The company is offering residents at no charge, devices that limit shower flow and flush water in toilets.

"So far, more than 6,000 Water Guard kits have been distributed to residents here," reports Peter Franzen, community services representative for Mission Viejo Company. "Ultimately we hope to provide enough kits to service every bathroom in approximately 10,000 -homes which don't already have these features. If all these residents take advantage of the offer, 24,000 kits will be distributed."

Each kit consists of two items that residents can easily install themselves. A washer placed inside the showerhead restricts the flow to three gallons per minute, instead of five to 15 gallons per minute. A dam for the toilet flush chamber restricts the water storage to three gallons instead of five, without lowering the water level, which determines flush power.

"The Water Guard kit distribution program could ultimately cost Mission Viejo Company about $50,000 if we receive 100 percent response from the community," according to Franzen.

As part of a continuing resource conservation program, Mission Viejo Company has been incorporating water saving showerheads and toilets in every new home since March, 1976. Water savings amount to about 20,000 gallons per year for an average family of four with no inconvenience or sacrifice to the homeowner.

Residents may pick up their free Water Guard kit next to the New Home Warranty Office in La Paz Plaza. "But please phone first to make sure we have them in stock," advises a company representative. The number to call is 837-3172.

"We are experiencing a severe shortage of material," reports Goodwill spokesperson John Flynn, "and if the situation continues the jobs of about 80 people will be affected, and ultimately the jobs of 300 more persons throughout the Goodwill plant and stores."

Last month 25 persons who relied upon Goodwill for training and/or a paycheck were sent home because of a lack of material on which to work, according to Flynn.

Items this philanthropic organization can use include clothing, shoes, jewelry, clocks, watches, furniture, small appliances, books, housewares, televisions, radios, toys and books.

Goodwill Industries utilizes the discarded items to help rehabilitate handicapped persons referred to them by the California State Department of Rehabilitation. "We have helped train or retain more referrals from the Department of Rehabilitation than any other such privately owned agency," these people are unemployed when they come to us and they leave with skills which make them capable of finding jobs," commented Flynn.

Mission Viejo residents can call Goodwill Industries of Orange County for information or pick-up at 547-6301.

WILDERNESS PICNIC — An outdoor barbeque at picturesque Wilderness Glen was enjoyed by 13 foreign journalists during their recent tour of Mission Viejo. Mission Viejo Company and residents of the community hosted the visitors who represented 11 countries. The tour concentrated on the planning aspects of Mission Viejo, illustrating how Mission Viejo Company incorporated the proper blend of homes, recreation, open spaces, shopping, and schools to develop a balanced community. Mission Viejo was the first stop for the journalists on a tour of the southern rim of the United States. The group also visited Arizona, Texas and Florida. Below, Phil Reilly, president of Mission Viejo Company, visiting with Swedish correspondent Harald Hamrin.

There's still time for local merchants to reserve advertising space in the Mission Viejo Jaycees' telephone directory, according to Tony Loechner, Jaycee member.

The local directory is a joint venture between the local service club and Valley Media Services, Inc. It will include emergency service and local government information, and directory listings for the residents of Mission Viejo.

A special section of the directory will be devoted to paid advertising space for Saddleback Valley merchants, said the Jaycees provided. "We can make ad reservations up until April 15." Distribution is set for May.

Further information is available by calling Valley Media at 830-9608.

Plans set for MVBC home and garden tour

The Fourth Annual Spring Home and Garden Tour date is set for Sunday, May 22, announced the sponsoring organization, Mission Viejo Beautiful Committee.

The event features six outstanding Mission Viejo homes, selected by a representative from the Federal Energy Research and Development Administration, Southern California Gas Company, and Mission Viejo Company.

The homes depict outstanding creativity in tasteful decorating and personal individuality in landscaping achievements, displaying the varied lifestyles of the community. An added feature of this year's Spring Tour is the inclusion of the Minimum Energy Dwelling (MED) recently constructed in Mission Viejo. The MED is part of a five-year research project sponsored by the Federal Energy Research and Development Administration, Southern California Gas Company, and Mission Viejo Company.

The MED research project is designed to demonstrate that total energy consumption can be reduced by approximately 60 percent without interfering with living standards and comfort enjoyed at home by today's family. In fact, the MED demonstrates that exterior and interior air and noise pollution can be decreased, privacy can be improved and a generally higher standard of living can be maintained at the same time.

Lettey Skee, committee chairman, announced new variations in planning and organizing this year's tour.

"Due to increased attendance, and overwhelming acceptance of our past tours, we find it necessary to limit ticket sales this year. Unfortunately, we've had problems in the past resulting in overcrowding the tour homes as well as the reception site.

Tickets will be available April 25 for $2.50 each. The tickets cover admission to all tour homes and the reception which follows the tour. Children under 12 years of age are not admitted. Tickets will be sold in advance. They will not be sold at the tour homes, as has been the rule in past tours.

Tickets will be sold through various local organizations: Montanoso Recreation Center, Barcelona Garden Club, Casta del Sol Recreation Center, Mission Viejo Realty offices, Seville Homeowners Association, and from Mission Viejo Beautiful Committee members.

Proceeds from the tour will aid the MVBC in financing monthly landscape awards and other projects.
El Toro High School students give fire aid to Casta del Sol woman

Casta del Sol resident Mary Scialli was the recipient of a heart warming gift from students in El Toro High School instructor Tim Rein's sophomore health classes. Mrs. Scialli, a laryngectomee as a result of cancer, lectures on the emotional and psychological aspects of cancer on a volunteer basis for the Orange County American Cancer Society.

At a recent speaking engagement to health classes at El Toro High School, Mrs. Scialli commented that, as a result of her laryngectomy, the surgical removal of the larynx, she had lost her sense of smell. "...For example, if there were a fire in my house, I wouldn't be able to smell it," she told the students.

Rein's health classes conferred, and all decided to pitch in what they could to purchase a smoke detector for Mrs. Scialli.

When the gift was purchased and wrapped, the students invited Mrs. Scialli back to school for a surprise presentation.

"I was simply overwhelmed," exclaimed Mrs. Scialli, as she reflected on the memory. "The parents and teachers of these children can be truly proud of what they are developing!"

A grand day it was for the Eighth Annual St. Paddy's Parade in Mission Viejo. More than 12,000 spectators lined the streets to view 138 entries, totaling more than 4,000 entrants, marching through town. Mickey Mouse and Disneyland's Ambassador, Susan Donald, led the parade.

Castille Elementary School children rode proudly aboard "The End of the Rainbow," lower left. Supervisor and Mrs. Tom Riley were also honored guests, lower right.

Some local parks in Mission Viejo are due for refurbishing, and the board of supervisors has awarded a $30,187 contract to Roy C. Barnett to get the job done.

The work will include improving small features such as tot lots and drinking fountains at Christopher, El Dorado, Margaret O'Neill, Via Oceano, Granada and Coronado parks, reported Supervisor Tom Riley.
Happenings:

For kids’ sake

Art from the Robert Sills Gallery of North Hollywood will be the focal point of an art show and auction offered by the Ayudantes Auxiliary of the Children’s Home Society April 2 at Montanoso Recreation Center, 25800 Montanoso Drive. Above, Ayudantes member Jeanette Kleist and her son, Bill, admire one of the pieces to be auctioned.

The collection to be offered consists of original lithographs, etchings and graphics signed and numbered by many of the world’s most renowned artists, according to a representative of the auxiliary. There will also be an enriching array of water colors and original oil paintings from all parts of the world. Each piece is framed and ready to hang.

The preview hour, when guests may examine the art and receive a complimentary catalog, will begin at 7 p.m. Gallery perusal will be available to answer questions. The auction will begin at 8:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and a no-host bar.

Proceeds raised will be used to support services to children and parents offered by the Children’s Home Society, the largest privately supported child welfare agency in the state. The agency provides pregnancy counseling, parent-child counseling, home care during crises, foster care and adoptive services through its Orange County headquarters in Santa Ana.

Library rewards

Mission Viejo Library will be observing National Library Week April 17-23 with special activities designed for children of all ages.

Highlighting the activities will be the Bookmark Design Contest awards ceremony, Monday, April 23, at 1:30 p.m. Mission Viejo students being honored for their award-winning bookmark designs will be: Esther Won, second grade, De Portola School; Pam Presley, third grade, Castile Elementary School; Kellie Suckit, fifth grade, De Portola School; and Dave Carlson, seventh grade, La Paz Intermediate School.

Following the awards ceremony will be a presentation of a puppet show, “The Frog Prince.” Refreshments will be served compliments of the Saddleback Valley Friends of the Library.

A special story hour for children kindergarten age and older, craft activity and a movie is scheduled for Tuesday, April 19, at 3:30 p.m. Children’s librarian Lynette Smith recommends that the whole family turn out to enjoy the Marlo Thomas film “Free to Be... You and Me” and the film “Bleuemen- town Musicians” Wednesday, April 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Cottontail skate

Mission Viejo Skateaway’s own Peter Rabbit will be rolling along the bunny trail at the Peter Cottontail Skate sessions during spring vacation April 5 through 8.

Roller skating sessions during Easter vacation will be 12-2:30 p.m., 2:45-3:15 p.m. and 3:30-4:45 p.m., Tuesday, April 5, through Friday, April 8. A special admission price of two sessions for the price of one is being featured. An additional skating session will be held Wednesday, April 6, from 10 p.m. to 12 midnight.

New class sessions will begin the week of April 18, noted Skateaway representative Mary Putman. “Registration will begin April 14 for classes in Beginning Fundamentals, Beginning Freestyle and Figure, Advanced Beginners, Dance I and Dance II.”

She also reminds skaters interested in music that on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m., special sessions are being held featuring “easy listening music.”

Spring fling

Mission Viejo Recreation Center members and their guests will be swinging into spring this year with an adult dance featuring the live sounds of the Flax at Montanoso Recreation Center, Saturday, April 30, at 9 p.m. Tickets are available at the recreation center at $5 per couple, and also will be sold at the door.

Circle decor

Circle weaving is the hottest item on the decorator market today, and Saddleback Valley residents can learn the first hand through Mission Viejo Recreation Centers.

Egg scramble

Peter Cottontail will be hopping down the bunny trail that leads straight to Marguerite Recreation Center Saturday, April 9, and children six years old and younger will be able to meet the Easter Bunny and hunt for some real Easter eggs that day between 9 and 11 a.m.

Prizes will be awarded in each age group to the finders of the “gold” and “silver” eggs. There is no charge for the event, and egg hunters must be Mission Viejo residents and their guests.

Due to the Easter Egg hunt, Marguerite Recreation Center will be closed on April 9 with the exception of tennis lessons through the Women’s Studies Center at the Saddleback Valley Unified School District, 30450 Aliso Creek Road, Near the Saddleback Valley Friends of the Library.

Not for men only

The varied tasks of home and auto repair need not be restricted to men only, stressed Saddleback College Women’s Studies Center is holding a special workshop April 22 to help women acquire some basic knowledge in these areas.

Women’s Home and Auto Repair Workshop is free of charge to all women. Classes on plumbing, auto repair and electricity will be held in the Women’s Studies Center at the Mission Viejo campus from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Due to limited seating, reservations must be made. Call the Women’s Center at 831-9700 or 495-4950, extension 227, to accomplish registration.

Paint patter

Saddleback Valley Unified School District art instructor Jean Lorenz will be the featured guest at the upcoming Saddleback Valley Seniors Club meeting April 15.

Mrs. Lorenz (pictured) will give an oil painting demonstration during the sack lunch meeting which is slated to begin at 11 a.m. at Montanoso Recreation Center.

Other Seniors’ Club activities include men’s ladies and couples golf groups.

“We’re also forming a new singles group within the club that will meet for special activities. We want all seniors in the Saddleback Valley to come out and join us, whether they are single or not,” commented John Clark, club representative. Reservations for all seniors’ club activities can be made by calling 837-4981.

Strip trip

If you’re feelin’ lucky, or are just in the mood for some hot entertainment, join Mission Viejo Recreation Center’s Adult Las Vegas trip aboard the recreation center’s air-conditioned chariot April 15-17.

The air-conditioned charter will deliver guests to the Stardust Hotel and the “strip,” then shuttle them back to the downtown area and the “strip” several times each day.

Four dollars per person covers two meals, cash for gambling, drinks, etc. The trip is open to the public.

Space is limited to 44 persons, so early reservations are necessary. Details are available by calling Montano, 837-4981.

Emeritus Institute implemented at Saddleback

Saddleback College is bridging the generation gap between academic and older adults through its Emeritus Institute, a branch of the college’s Division of Health Sciences and Gerontology. The Emeritus Institute will provide opportunities which fit the needs, interests and circumstances of the older members in the community. Its overall intent is to develop educational programs that will encourage the older person back into the academic world in a stimulating way, to offer an exchange with youth, and to utilize the abilities, talents and accumulated wisdom and knowledge of the older community.

Emeritus program administrators Robert Pettenigg and Del Eschbach, instructor and director, respectively, of Saddleback’s Division of Health Sciences and Gerontology, see the program as a key to better health and increased happiness of older adults, as well as a method of tapping the vast knowledge and experience available in the older community.

“We feel that programs such as these will serve to ease the transition into retirement for the older generation, and encourage a more positive attitude toward aging for both young and old,” said Ms. Eschbach. She illustrated the college’s concern for programs geared to the needs of senior citizens, pointing out that of approximately 275,000 residents in the Saddleback College district, 55,000 are 60 years old or older.

Mission Viejo's reputation as sports capital of Southern California has gone Hollywood. The best male and female professional athletes in the world have competed at Mission Viejo's elaborate recreational facilities, and now the community will host Hollywood's most illustrious celebrities as television cameras again invade the town to tape "Challenge of the Sexes."

Twenty-four TV and motion picture stars are competing, man vs. woman, in 12 different sports events staged at recreation-oriented Mission Viejo.

Taping began Wednesday, March 30, and will continue through Sunday, April 3, at various locations throughout the community. The results will be aired on KNXT Channel 2 in a two-hour network special entitled "Celebrity Challenge of the Sexes," Sunday, April 17 at 8 p.m.

The special is a joint production by CBS-TV, Trans World International Inc., the television packaging company that staged the popular sports series, "The Challenge of the Sexes," and Mission Viejo Company.

Residents of the community are invited to attend all event tapings this weekend for free.

Events scheduled on Saturday, April 2, include:
- Marathon Run, featuring Ed Asner of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" against actress Lola Falana at the Casta del Sol Golf Course "front nine" at 7 a.m.
- Ping Pong, at Mission Viejo High School gym, 1 p.m.
- Swimming, featuring Tony Randall, at Marguerite Recreation Center at 9 a.m.
- Tennis, featuring Charlie's Angels, Farrah Fawcett-Majors, and Bill Cosby at 2 p.m. at Marguerite Recreation Center.

Events taped March 30 through April 1 included a mini grand prix go-cart race with Flip Wilson racing against Connie Stevens; bowling, featuring Gabe Kaplan of "Welcome Back Kotter" and Susan Howard, co-star of the series " Petrocelli," golf, featuring Kathy Crosby, wife of Bing Crosby, and MacLean Stevenson.

Also skateboarding featuring Dan Haggerty of "Grease Adjs." and "Family," Kris McKnight of "Bob Conrad, of "Baa, Baa, Black Sheep," competing against Penny Marshall of the "Laverne and Shirley" show in an obstacle race; and Lloyd Bridges vs. Cindy Williams of the "Laverne and Shirley" show in a bike race.

Former U.S. Open pool champion Harry "the Hustler" McConnell, now residing in Orange County, has entered the $50,000 Made National Invitational Nine-Ball Championship Tournament, scheduled April 5-9 at the Registrar Hotel, Irvine.

Challenger is Karl Goodell, who has been known to execute exhibitions. His spin-shooting is rated "perfect form." The beautiful and enticing Farrah Fawcett-Majors, one of the stars of the television hit "Charlie's Angels," will be competing against comedi- man Bill Cosby in tennis for taping of "Celebrity Challenge of the Sexes," Sunday, April 3, at 2 p.m. at Marguerite Recreation Center. Admission is free and open to the public.

Record Holders — Mission Viejo Nadadores Age Group swimmers, from left, Florence Barker, Karen Barnscomb, Tammy Burch and Mary Shannon Hayes, take a look ahead at their array of good luck pieces, but all agree it was skill, not luck, that afforded them the means to capture the age 10 and under national relay record time of 1:54.98 at the recent AAU AAA swim meet in Long Beach. Collectively the Nadadores ranked home "loads" of awards, according to a Nadadores spokesman, in addition to the relay team.

MVCC man to compete in Nine-Ball tourney

Former U.S. Open pool champion Karl "the Hustler" McConnell, now residing in Orange County, has entered the $50,000 Made National Invitational Nine-Ball Championship Tournament, scheduled April 5-9 at the Registrar Hotel, Irvine.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC SALUTATION — Brian Goodell is greeted by two members of the boys basketball team at Mission Viejo High School Wednesday. The team included the annual awards banquet in October.

The Memory of Ken Townsley, one of the early residents of Casta del Sol, the adult community in Mission Viejo, and one of the organizers of the Casta del Sol Men's Golf Club, will live on through the establishment of the Ken Townsley Memorial Trophy.

The trophy will be awarded to the Casta del Sol Men's Golf Club member who posts the lowest average score during the entire year at the executive-length course. The permanent accolade, which will remain on display at the clubhouse, will be inscribed with the winner's name each year. A miniature trophy will be given to each winner to keep.

Townesley was one of the most likeable people in the retirement community," noted John Scialli, president of the golf club.

Mrs. Margarette Townsley, who still resides in Casta del Sol, has been invited to make the presentation to the first winner at the annual awards banquet in October.

MV AYSO girls finish season

The Mission Viejo Pearls, Division III champions, suffered their first defeat of the season in the American Youth Soccer Organization Area "L" championship game against the Corals from San Clemente and San Juan Capistrano.

"No other Division II girls' soccer team has advanced as far as the Pearls did," noted manager and coach Steve Goodell.

Outstanding players during the season included Melissa Smith, Janeen Armenta, Tracy Turvibelle, Patti Newby, Melissa Ysasaga, Rochelle Mann, Debbie Sawyer, Lynn Frank, Francine Herrie, Robin Toomey and Lisa Owens.

Former U.S. Open pool champion Harry "the Hustler" McConnell, now residing in Orange County, has entered the $50,000 Made National Invitational Nine-Ball Championship Tournament, scheduled April 5-9 at the Registrar Hotel, Irvine.

Tickets for the five-day tournament, which will be launched with a celebrity-studded pro-amateur joust on Tuesday, April 5, are now available at Mako Industries, tournament sponsor, at 22661 Lambert St., El Toro, and shortly will be available through Ticketron agencies. The tournament will be televised.
