CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLELIGHTING — In the Spanish tradition of lumineria, families in Mission Viejo will light sand candles on Christmas Eve between 7 and 8 p.m. Art and Norma Homer with daughter Karen, 10, and son Lee, 12, of the La Paz Homes neighborhood, add a bit of brightness in the community with the glow of candles in front on their home.

LAS POSADAS PARADERS — Children in the community will be sharing in the Mexican tradition of Las Posadas as part of this year's Nights of Christmas event. The pageant portrays Mary and Joseph seeking shelter with its story told in song. Here Gail Russo and Steve Cook re-enact the parts of Mary and Joseph while Jeff and Gregg Aldrich, Marie Cook and Kristine and Kelly Martin watch the procession. Las Posadas will be held at La Paz Plaza, Sunday, December 19, at 6 p.m., and will conclude with youngsters breaking a large Christmas piñata.

Tree Lighting, Santa's Arrival Mark First Night of Mission Viejo's Christmas Event

One of the most colorful and interesting Mission Viejo Nights of Christmas celebrations since the event was first introduced in 1967 began Sunday, December 5.

The dramatic tree lighting ceremony, which traditionally opens the celebration, preceded the arrival of Santa Claus at 6 p.m. Choral singing by "Sing Out, Amigos" and a band concert by the Mission Viejo High School Band provided a musical backdrop for these festivities.

Now, after the first night, the celebration takes on a Mexican theme, with La Noche Magnifica, a semi-formal dance which promises to be "the social event of the year," according to a spokesman for the dance committee.

Beginning at 9 p.m., Saturday, December 11, the dance will be held at Montanoso Center. The orchestra, the "Orange County Rhythm Machine" will pause only long enough for another entertainment highlight — the internationally-known recording stars, The Drifters.

Holiday dinner will be served at Mission Viejo Inn the evening of the dance. Reservations are available through the Inn office, 837-9006.

Then on the third night of Christmas, Sunday, December 12, Santa's Workshop will open its doors to the children of the community and neighboring areas from 6:30 to 8:30 in La Paz Plaza. Student choirs from La Paz Intermediate and Mission Viejo High schools will put the "jingle" into the night with presentations of Christmas carols.

Santa also will listen to the "wants" of youngsters at his village on December 14, 16, 20 and 22 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and on Saturday, December 18, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Letters to the North Pole residence of Mr. and Mrs. Claus can be left in Santa's mailbox at the Information Center on Chrisanta Drive for special delivery to snow country.

Mission Viejo adds another innovation this year with the Las Posadas pageant. Derived from the Mexican tradition, the choral parade symbolizes the journey of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem. The parade will begin at 7 p.m., Sunday, December 19, at La Paz Plaza.

The breaking of a giant star piñata, created by members of Mission Viejo Artists and Craftsman Association, will climax the pageant.

Winners of this year's home decoration contest will also be announced following Las Posadas. Homeowners are asked to submit their entries prior to 5

Eldorado's Unit 21 Offers Prime Sites
One of Mission Viejo's most successful neighborhoods and one of the most well-received housing programs in Southern California, Eldorado Homes, recently opened its 21st unit. The new 43-home unit will be located on excellent view sites with facing twin cul-de-sac placement in the northern section of the community. The previous unit was to have been the last one in this neighborhood, but demand for these homes has continued unabated so that Mission Viejo Company is planning additional units for 1972 completion.

More than a sale-a-day has been the pace since Eldorado's initial opening in April, 1967, for a total of 1,400 homes sold in this time.

Unit 21 will be near Eldorado Park, the largest community park; Cordillera Elementary School and a future school site recently acquired by the San Joaquin School District.

Five distinctive models are offered in 13 external elevations, with prices starting at $24,995. Designed for the young family, Eldorado Homes offer room for a growing family, both in the concept of the homes and the spacious yard area for outdoor living.

New Arrivals Boost Population Growth
The year 1971 is near an end. In the past 12 months, the community's population has grown by more than 17,000 persons. More than 3,000 of this number were new homeowners and their families. Then there were the new additions to the list of restaurants that joined the present 5,200 families of Mission Viejo.

Two of these new arrivals are little girls. One is Joanne Kuhns, born Monday, November 1, at Hoag Hospital. It seems her parents, Bill and Joan Kuhns of La Paz Homes, have waited 11 years for their first child. So when Joanne's parents brought her home, their neighbors had a surprise welcome for them.

In the National Division, the Donats, Ely, McCurys and Runels, Barkers, Richardsons, Holls and Weathers; and the McCos, McWilliams, Saulners and Flannagans comprise the three first place contenders. All hold a five-win, one-loss record.

Ken Semsrode and John Groothuis hold "number one" spot in the two-man competition with a slim margin of a half-
