Theatre Plans
In Final Stages

The Mission Viejo Company has announced plans for a new 907-seat, $8-million Cinema Viejo Theatre, which will be located adjacent to the La Par Plaza on Cristiana Drive in Mission Viejo.

Plans for the 11,400-square-foot theatre were announced at the formal contract-signing ceremony by Robert E. Maurer, Vice President of Property Management for the Mission Viejo Company, and James Edwards, President of Edwards Circuits, Inc. The ceremony included the signing of the image of the contract, which had been protected against a motion picture screen.

"We were delighted to be able to complete this agreement with the Edwards Cinema chain. Every Edwards' theatre is noted for innovative design and top-quality first-run films," said Maurer.

"The exterior design of the theatre will be in keeping with the early California architecture of Mission Viejo. The interior will be very plush, with yards of floor-to-ceiling draperies and lavish carpeting. And the policy will be to run top-quality first-run films," said Maurer.

According to Edwards, advanced stereophonic sound equipment and ultramodern projection equipment will be used in the theatre.

Construction is due to begin as soon as possible, with completion tentatively scheduled for early December, 1970.

St. Patrick Given Regal Celebration at First Annual Mission Viejo Parade, Party

Mission Viejo means more than rolling green hills and world-famous golf greens. It also can boast a unique way of commemorating the "wearing of the green." The first of what will become an annual event was held March 17, in honor of St. Patrick's birthday, and in the words of one resident, "turned out to be an absolute smash."

The first annual Mission Viejo St. Patrick's Day celebration was held on March 17, 1970. More than 1,500 persons participated in the parade, which was divided into several groups: high school marching bands and drill teams from Mission Viejo High School, the Kiwanis Club, and the local Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops. The parade also featured special groups, such as the Saddleback Mother of Twins and Leisure World hikers, who marched in Irish clothing and carried shamrocks and flags.

The parade was followed by a party at the Mission Viejo Golf Club, where a special Irish dinner was served to the young members of the community. The evening concluded with a special performance by a group of Irish dancers from the Mission Viejo High School drill team.

Overwhelming Success

The spontaneous success of the first St. Patrick's Day celebration in Mission Viejo proved to be an overwhelming success. The event was a turning point for the community, bringing together residents from all walks of life to celebrate their Irish heritage and to enjoy the festivities.

ART CORNER

Dabbling

Mention wax to most homemakers and they immediately think candles, floors or furniture.

To Beverly (Mrs. Bud) Weber of Mission Viejo, wax means art ... and most unusual art at that. Beverly creates "encaustic" art primarily by using heat to seal structural layers of beeswax pigments and hardening agents to form a design.

The encaustic method is an ancient one, used widely in Egypt in the third and fourth centuries to make tomb portraits. In that era, the layers of wax were sealed together by holding a hot flame to the painting.

Time, however, has changed the technique slightly. Some artists melt the wax with a heat lamp, then use their own heat. Beverly finds that a blow torch is her best means of moving the wax to create her beautiful works.

The painting is started by dipping a brush into a bubbling can of wax (conveniently melted and kept liquid in an electric skillet). This is then brushed onto a piece of untempered Masonite which has been coated with "gesso." (This can be an underlayer of unpigmented wax.) The colored wax is now applied.

"To color" the wax, Beverly uses dry pigment—though beginners may use crayons or even candle colors. Each color is then brushed onto a piece of unpigmented wax. The colored wax is now applied.

After having built the first layer and fused it to the wax on the board by the process of re-melting and moving it, the process begins again. Texture is built by this means of layer upon layer.

Beverly does realistic scenes, still lifes, and artworks built on "happy accidents." She has found that as the wax fuses between each layer, it often forms some shape which was totally unexpected, and often the most interesting pieces come from these little surprises.

If you feel this is too difficult, as you have trouble drawing a straight line—well, with encaustic wax, so does Beverly. The wax, when melted, does not move in straight lines, but in unusual patterns. This problem has been mastered by the artist using thin wire to create crevices in the layers of wax. This is later reinforced by another color to "create a line."

Intriguing? Yes. And Beverly's works are available. But if you would like to try this new art form—or should we say, most ancient one, revitalized—Beverly offers lessons in her home.

It's time we tried encaustic for relaxation and expression of our hidden talents.

Fifteen MV Students Named to Dean's List at Saddleback College

Saddleback College recently announced that 15 Mission Viejo students achieved a 3.0 (B average) or better.

Of the total 210 students named this quarter, three Mission Viejo students achieved a 4.0 standing (all A's). They were Doris Finda, Dorothy Rosenberg and Lloyd Wengler.

Other Mission Viejo students named were Anita Becker, Gary Bergon, Mike Dearing, Mrs. Kaye Craig Flee, Avis French and William S. Gross.

Letters of commendation were given to the above students, and continued high scholarship can result in graduation with honors.

Students must carry 12 quarter units or more to be eligible for the Dean's list.

Dental credits extracted by Hospital

Dr. Robert Kiussis and Sandra H. Marshall, of Mission Viejo, and their two associates, F. Scott and Tom L. Ashley, also achieved honors. But if you would like to try this new art form—or should we say, most ancient one, revitalized—Beverly offers lessons in her home.

"No Place Like It,’ Finds Pilot
In Buying La Paz Home as Gift

Sentiment means a great deal to Barbara Deilke.
Her husband, Dick, surprised her with a new La Paz home for Valentine’s Day.
Dick, who is a pilot with United Airlines said they have work out at home. There’s room enough, but we have so many other plans for it," Betty concluded.

The Deilkes are from Dallas, Texas, and lived in Oceanside, California in 1967. United Airlines then transferred Dick to New Jersey until the summer of 1969, when the couple returned to California.
And after you’ve seen Mission Viejo, you’ve seen it all. We love being able to make it our home,” added two of the community’s newest members.

High School Announces
PTO Scholarship Deadline
Deadline for Mission Viejo High School PTO scholarships is Friday, May 1, for high school seniors who wish to apply.

Last year, three seniors were given $900 scholarships which had been made available through Fiesta Cinco de Mayo.
Interested seniors are asked to check with their class advisors for information.

The Deilkes plan on moving in about April 15, and although they both find themselves with heavy schedules during the week, manage to take “little rides” to Mission Viejo from their present home in Laguna Niguel to see their future home and check its progress.
Dick commutes daily to Los Angeles airport, where his flights originate. Betty heads in the opposite direction to Oceanside where she works as a social worker for San Diego County.
Her outside activities include an evening course at Saddleback College “taking Spanish, which will help me say the names of the streets in Mission Viejo,” Betty smiles.

As a handball enthusiast, Dick finds the community YMCA offers excellent facilities, and he has entered several tournaments “just for fun.”

Our salesman, Gordon Hirst, thought we could persuade him out a handball court in the backyard so Dick could

THEME TO BE TOPIC
At April Club Meeting
The Mother Omicron Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold its April meeting at the home of Mrs. David (Mary) Thomas, La Paz Homes, Wednesday, April 15, at 8 p.m.
The program will be presented by Mrs. Charles (Judith) Yonkers on the subject of “Creative Thinking” — concentration, imagination, motion thought and expression.
The following meeting will be held Wednesday, May 6, at Mrs. Yonkers home in El Dorado homes, and will feature “Exercises in Thought,” presented by Mrs. Vera Hugus.

All members of Beta Sigma Phi living in the community and interested persons are invited to attend. Call Mrs. Yonkers, 837-4306, for information on meetings or membership.

The creative expression resulting from the “Add-a-stroke paint-in” for children at the recent annual Art Show at La Paz Plaza will be on display the first week of May. The 5x40 canvas came to life through the creative strokes of little artists of the community.

LEAGUERS TRY OUT — Aspirants for Mission Viejo Little League teams make their dash for first base. Play begins Monday, May 4, for the community’s 26 teams.

Little Leaguers Get Future School Site For Play Field
Mission Viejo Little League has announced approval for use of the Montanoso School site for season play of all league games.
Sponsors have been assigned eight Minor A’s and 10 Minor B’s. The Minor B’s will begin the season with T-Ball games and at mid-season will go into regular play.

Team drafts will follow the tryouts and are tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, April 1, for the Majors and Minor A’s; and April 3, for Minor B teams. Players will be notified by individual team managers and game schedules will be finalized at this time.

Opening day ceremonies are planned for Thursday, May 2, at 1 p.m. at the school site, according to Bill Dalrymple, who is coordinating the community Little League.

“Presentation of framed certificates will be given to our teams’ sponsors, and a two-winning exhibition game between two of the major teams (to be selected in a drawing) will follow,” said Dalrymple.

Little League play begins May 4, and games will start at 6 p.m. during the week. Games are played nightly throughout the season.

“lowest cost at this time,” said Dalrymple, “is for additional umpires. We hope that we will have enough coaches and managers to help us, but we will need umpires.”

“Help is also needed for work in the construction of our new fields.” Contact Watson Williams, regarding volunteer assistance at 830-0518.

Linda Vista Park Gets
Swinging Play Equipment

With ring dings, wing dings, and other scientifically designed pieces, the 3.7-acre Linda Vista Field, now a take on a whole new look as more playground equipment is installed in this park. Designed by landscape architect of Mission Viejo Company, it marks the first park to undergo these improvements in the whole of El Dorado and Coronado parks that will receive similar play equipment as completion late this month and early May.

Designed by Playground Corporation of America, these progressively-planned pieces will be installed with a 1,000 sq. foot sand area within the park. The planned child-sized environment is for children from two to five years old. It will accommodate from 25 to 55 children at one time, allowing for a variety of activities and exercises. There will be benches installed at the peripheral area for adult relaxation and supervision.

The new Playforms equipment is of modernistic design in aluminum and steel paint-ed in vibrant orange, yellow, and green. In addition to the ring dings and wing dings, there will be a spiral climber, squirrel house, and monkey bars, as well as other adaptations of form and design.

Frank Rademacher, landscape architect of Mission Viejo Company, is responsible for the concept and design of this park area and other park sites which are being completed throughout the community.

With the addition of Granada, El Dorado and Coronado parks, there will be a total of five parks providing more than 15 acres of recreational area. The three future park sites in Seville, Valverno and Precidio will offer an additional 15 acres to the community within the next year.

Mission Viejo Husband
Named for Wife's Award

Living in Mission Viejo inspired one homeowner to "do his own thing" which prompted him to write to the Reporter to express his gratitude.

Roger Hoxmeier of Eldorado Homes is with the sheriffs department of Orange County and working toward his master's degree in criminology at Long Beach State. While working on his full-time job and a full schedule of study, he also held an extra job so he could buy the necessary materials he needed for landscaping their new home.

According to his wife Faye, who along with their children - Michelle, Daniel, and Roland - wrote a letter of appreciation to Roger for "doing all this work as a first-time homeowner, taking for him of this kind.

"Never having laid cement or brick before, and having worked with any power tools, Roger managed to lay a patio and build a patio cover," writes Mrs. Hoxmeier.

"He erected a wall, four feet tall of railroad ties, the length and width of our rear yard, 'paint a brick planter and built a tree house over our entire property.' And the most wonderful

Lions Roar as Saddleback Gets Its Own Club

The Lions are coming to Mission Viejo. No, they are not strays from Lion Country Safari, but members of the International Lions Association of Lions' clubs, who are forming a new club in the community.

Sponsored by the Santa Ana Uptown Lions Club, this new group which actively participates in service projects for the benefit of the community and state will be known temporarily as the Saddleback Valley Lions Club.

Award-winning "Macbeth" Film Feature at College

This month's Heritage Films presentation at Saddleback College will feature television's Hall of Fame presentation of "Macbeth," Thursday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m., Building M-1.

Roger Hoxmeier, the Shakespearean actor Maurice Evans and Dame Judy Anderson, the presentation was awarded five Emmy Awards.

It will be shown with a short fantasy that tells the story of a young boy and his pet goldfish, without the use of narration or dialogue. Imaginative musical scoring and photography are featured in this special film.

Admission is 25c for adults. Members of the Associated Student Body are admitted free.

"Miracle Worker" Presentation of High School Class

Mission Viejo High School drama department will present "The Miracle Worker." Wednesday through Saturday evenings, April 15 through 18, at the Mission Viejo Community league basketball games were sponsored by the Mission Viejo Recreation Center.

VICTORY SMILES — Mission Viejo Community league basketball has its own team this year, the AU record in the last 25 games.

Flanker with St. Louis Cardinals, plays for exercise. Although he manages to "load between seasons," he does watch his weight by keeping fit with physical activities.

A graduate of the University of Washington, 1967, Dave lives in Mission Viejo with his wife Sue, son Jeff, and daughter Kelley.

From the Canadian football league, Bill Redell of the Hamilton Tigers has found there is no place like California. He and his wife Cheryl, and his sons Randy, 28, and Billy, 14, live in La Paz Homes, Mission Viejo.

The final member of the foursome is Lew Hoyt, who builds the National Collegiate record for the high jump at 7 feet, 2 feet. A pilot in the Marine Corps, Lew is stationed in El Toro, and is interested in making the military his career — with eyes toward the astronaut program for his future.

For his immediate plans, Lew is training for the 1972 Spring Olympics and is in daily workouts to keep in shape. Lew is a graduate of the University of Southern California, 1965. Community league basketball games were sponsored by the Mission Viejo Recreation Center.

Sports Foursome Use Courts For Off-season Workout

What do professional athletes and AAU champions do during the "off season?" Keep fit, mostly, as demonstrated by three members of pro football teams and an Olympics' track aspirant.

All four are members of the Mission Viejo Men's Basketball League and play for the undefeated (at the time of printing) La Paz Realty Team in "B" League.

Dave Williams, a flanker with the St. Louis Cardinals, plays for exercise. Although he manages to "load between seasons," he does watch his weight by keeping fit with physical activities.

A graduate of the University of Washington, 1967, Dave lives in Mission Viejo with his wife Sue, son Jeff, and daughter Kelley.

From the Canadian football league, Bill Redell of the Hamilton Tigers has found there is no place like California. He and his wife Cheryl, and his sons Randy, 28, and Billy, 14, live in La Paz Homes, Mission Viejo.

The final member of the foursome is Lew Hoyt, who builds the National Collegiate record for the high jump at 7 feet, 2 feet. A pilot in the Marine Corps, Lew is stationed in El Toro, and is interested in making the military his career — with eyes toward the astronaut program for his future.

The annual High School Mathematics Examination in which more than 7,000 schools throughout the country participated was held recently at Mission Viejo High School.

The examination was administered by the Mathematics Department in conjunction with the Mathematics Club. It was jointly sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, the Society of Actuaries, Mu Alpha Theta, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Twin Club Forms

The Mother of Twins Club has come to the community with the recent founding of a Saddleback chapter group.

Presently, there are 15 members in this new organization which meets weekly in the homes of the members. The membership is limited to mothers of twins or multiple births.

Events planned for the year include fishing trips in April and June, the annual June barbeque in June, sports events such as the Rams-Chargers football game in San Diego, and similar activities geared for the family as well as its members.

Interested persons are invited to call Gordon Hicks, 837-5684, for further information.

MV Men's Club Elects Officers

New officers were recently elected by the third annual Mission Viejo Men's Club, a social organization for residents of Deane Homes.

President for the 1970-71 term of office will be Gordon Hicks, assisted by Gordon Kelly, first vice president, Warner Williams, second vice president, John Kemper, secretary, and Purifoy, treasurer. Warren Williams will serve as treasurer while Frank Elsen will be keeper of the bar.

Meetings are held at Deane Homes Swim and Racquet Club on the second or third Thursday of each month, with a "happy half-hour" beginning at 7:30 p.m. New members are invited to join with membership fee of $2 for the year.

Seeing Double?

A new Saddleback charter group, the Mother of Twins Club, is held recently by the one-acre site on Chrurthia, adjacent to the proposed county library location.

It will provide the community with garden supplies, plants and nursery items, specializing in "inconstant" gardens with flowering plants year-round.

Initialy, there will be a staff of nine to assist new home owners with landscape designs and plant information.

"We hope to achieve individuality for the homes through professionalism that we can provide," added Stevens.

"We are most happy to have been chosen for Mission Viejo's garden center, as we see it as the most beautiful of areas."

Stevens becomes a new homeowner herself as she moves into his La Paz home this month, with wife Cindy and daughter, Stacy, 1 1/2.

The garden center opening is scheduled for July 1.

Ole! Cinco de Mayo Comes to Mission Viejo the Third of May

The third annual Fiestas Cinco de Mayo, Mission Viejo High School Parents' Organization's only fund-raising project of the year, will be held Sunday, May 3.

Last year's receipts were donated to the $9,000 scholarships and visual aid equipment for the high school valued in excess of $600.

Vince Esposti, chairman of the booth committee at Noreiga, entertainment and over-all chairman is Cliff Senn, president of the PTO.

The community is invited to participate and attend the Cinco de Mayo festivities. For any information regarding the event, contact Noreiga, 830-4951, or Bohmeier, 837-1028.

Erin Parade

This year, the Erin Parade event for Mission Viejo would make other communities turn green with envy, as the total response was one of its complete success. Mission Viejo has made forward to next year, and participants toward plans for future float entries.

National Harmony Week, sponsored by the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., hits a high note between April 5 and 11.

If you feel in voice, and are interested in participating in the activities of the SPEBSQSA, you are invited to open house auditions which will be held Tuesday, April 7, at 8 p.m. at Hank's Barbershop at 30 Plaza Square, Orange.

The Orange Chapter, which now boasts 45 in-tune members, is boosting its roster to 79 — hopefully free of charge, although they help in the support of the Institute of Logopedics, devoted to speech handicapped children.

"Keep America Singing" is the motto of the society. Be a part of this musical group. Call Tony Cram, 772-1890, for more information.

No Name Change
For Reporter

In the January issue of the Mission Viejo Reporter, an invitation was extended for readers to suggest possible name changes for the Reporter.

Although the response was somewhat limited, the names were excellent. It is felt that the number of replies is not indicative of warranting a name change at this time.

The Reporter wishes to thank the interested participants, and we will keep these suggestions "ready" for the time when a name change might be made.

Some of the names submitted included: "El Recordero" (The Messenger), "Mission Viejo Vigilante" (One who is vigilant), "Novedad de Mission Viejo" (News of Mission Viejo) and "La Platica" (Talk or conversation).

The Mission Viejo Reporter welcomes your suggestions, on any subject, and will be most receptive to news you would like to see in your monthly community newspaper.

If you are planning any improvements, additions or alterations to your property, please have all your plans approved by the Architectural Committee before you proceed. This will insure harmony and beauty in our community.

The Mission Viejo Company has endeavored to provide our residents with a planned community in proper architectural balance, and we know you will want to share in this endeavor with us.

For information or assistance, please call 837-6050, and ask for the Architectural Committee representative. Thank you for your cooperation.

"¡Bienvenido!" to New Homeowners

Eldorado Homes have drawn residents from Los Angeles, Burbank and Downey to Corona del Mar and Costa Mesa as new homeowners in the community.
