A grand opening will be held in mid-February for Castille Homes at Mission Viejo, a new $28 million, 800-home neighborhood in the northern hills of the community.

Castille Homes are designed to provide attractive housing for active families who want to live in a totally planned community.

Prices will range from $31,745 to $40,045, with VA, FHA and Conventional financing available. All Castille buyers may join the Mission Viejo Recreation Association and enjoy more than $3.5 million in facilities. Although membership is voluntary, most Mission Viejo families participate in the wide range of activities offered, from swimming to handball, tennis, volleyball and other sports, as well as many planned programs.

Architectural styles at Castille offer a flavor of Old Spain in four story models, or one two story models. Up to four bedrooms and three baths will be offered.

Model homes were decorated by Carole Eichen Interiors, of Fullerton. The largest home, Plan 5, El Picasso, has two stories, and offers four bedrooms and three full baths. This home features a side-entry, a step-down living room with a massive fireplace, and a soaring cathedral ceiling. The fourth bedroom is downstairs and easily converts into a den or study.

Plan 4, El Goya, is the largest of the single story models and features four bedrooms, two baths, and a large living room and family room. The La Loma, Plan 3, features a central entryway leading to a large living area which combines the living room, dining room, family room and kitchen. Three bedrooms and two baths are separate from the living area. The bedrooms and two baths are also featured in the single story Plan 2, El Dalí model, which also has a large family room.

A country kitchen is the main feature of the Plan 1, El Greco model. The El Greco also has three bedrooms and two full baths.

In most Castille models the third or fourth bedroom may be converted into an optional den.

School Bond Passage Would Not Raise Taxes

February 6th residents of the Saddleback Unified School District will decide the future growth of the new district. Each voter must vote YES if he cares about schools in the district, and each vote is very important because both bond measures must be passed by 2/3rds of those voting.

Q. What will $46 million buy?
A. Over five years — 8 elementary schools, 2 intermediate schools, 2 high schools, and a district center.

Q. What happened to the bond money from Tustin High School and San Joaquin School Districts?
A. All bonds not sold are cancelled on July 1, 1973 when the new school districts go into effect.

Q. Why should I care? I’ve raised my family.
A. The Saddleback Valley is a family community. A prime consideration of buyers in this type of community is the quality of the schools. Good schools will increase your property value. Passing the bonds is a very good investment.

Multi-Media Center at O'Neil School

Marguerite O'Neil Elementary School has implemented a Multi-Media Center which serves as a complete resource and study center for the school's students ranging from kindergarten to 6th grade.

The Center opened in November in the rear portion of the school's multi-purpose room. It's purpose was to relieve crowded classrooms and additionally provide highly motivational experiences for the children. Teachers were able to meet with small groups of children and help them to develop their special interests in various subjects.

Children were also able to spend time working on special class-room problems. The program was evaluated and results showed that children, teachers and parents benefited from the facilities and programs.

With the hoped-for passage of this year's project proposal for special district funds to enlarge the Center's inventory of materials was accepted as well as a proposal to relocate the school's library. The Center opened in November and is currently used by all students at the school.

The Center is currently supplied with a variety of instructional materials and machines such as film strips, mini-computer, tapes, calculators, type-writers, slides, microscopes, television and research tests.

The center is supervised by Marge VanDevere, curriculum coordinator; Maxine Giblin, instructional aide; and Marti Walker, library aide. Carol Whitcher, the school READ specialist, provides special reading instruction and coordinates a CROSS-AGE reading program in the center. Parent volunteer participation has also been a vital aid in the center's operations.

With the hoped-for passage of the upcoming Saddleback Valley School District measures, O'Neil School will be able to offer students even more research materials and aids for increased academic development.

The First Annual Mission Viejo Junior Tennis Tournament played during Christmas vacation was a great success. One hundred and seventy-seven players participated in the four-day event. Our local juniors did quite well against strong competition. Sue Berry and Kelly Black were finalists in the junior high singles. Sue was runner-up to Jill Morton of Tustin and Kelly was second to Andis Latans from L.N.T.C.

Mark Minler and Steve Orr reached the quarters in elementary singles. Kent Collins and Bob Walker were quarter-finalists in junior high singles and Tim Fuller reached the semi-finals in Jr. varsity singles.

Captain Jim McDonald's Winter League doubles team, playing for the Mission Viejo Tennis Association, went undefeated this season. Playing for Jim were: Gary Jensen, Bill Rule, Wayne Jones, Hal Gensichen, Mike Casey, Elmar Fillis, Jim Ely, John McCurry, Chuck Tyas and Jack Wrotten.

Washington's birthday is the date set for the Mission Viejo Tennis Association Club Championships. Events will begin Friday, February 16, with women's singles. The tournament will feature two flights with singles and doubles for Association members. Deadline for tourney entries is Friday, February 9.

The Tennis Association now has 125 players in its membership, with junior, novice and advanced activities happening weekly.

The Junior Association tennis team is entering a spring league with San Clemente, Lake Forest, University Park and Laguna Niguel. Novice players have clinics Tuesday and Saturday afternoons at 1:30 p.m. These clinics serve also as mixers for new and old members to form tennis friendships.

Advanced players will be playing in the Winter League Tourney at Fullerton Jr. College the first and second weekends in February.

Tennis Travel

31 members of the tennis association travelled to La Costa for the pro matches and they found the tennis to be outstanding and exciting. Another group of association members went to the Forum for the ladies' Virginia Slims Tournament. The girls sat courtside and were impressed with the speed of foot the girls showed in moving for shots on the court. Footwork is probably the area which needs the most work among club players.

Rose Bowl Parade Twirler Teaches at M.V. Rec Centers

As part of the many interesting programs offered through the Mission Viejo Recreation Centers, the first meeting of a professionally-instructed baton twirling class will be held at Montanoso Recreation Center on Tuesday, February 6.

Under the instruction of Carol Fiore, the bi-weekly classes will include Tiny Tot Drum Team, 4-6 years; Junior Baton, 7-12 years; Senior Baton, 13-17; and Banner Carriers, Color Guard, and Drum Corps, for girls and boys 10 years and up. The various groups will eventually be trained to participate in various types of parade competition. Mrs. Fiore noted there is no previous training or experience necessary to be eligible for the classes. The recreation center will provide drums, batons, shields, flags and transportation to many parade events. Students will be asked to furnish uniforms. The theme of the center’s parade will be western or Space-War, and it will be determined by a student contest.

Carol Fiore, a Madrid home-owner, has led the Tournament of Roses Parade as baton twirler and was also Miss Majorette of Arizona in 1959. She has served as an instructor in the Camp of Champs, a school for baton twirling, songleading and cheer-leading, and she has been an instructor at the University of California at San Diego, La Jolla and Houston Baptist College. She is also a member of the National Baton Twirling Association—an accredited teacher. Mrs. Fiore leads a number of other classes at the recreation center where she has taught baton twirling for the past year.

The new recreation center group will join the Southern California Band and Orchestra Director’s Association.
