Equestrian Center Stages All Day Horse Show

The Mission Viejo Equestrian Center hosted an open horse show Sunday, October 9, with various forms of English and Western riding skills featured throughout the day. More than 340 participants vied for prizes during the show competing in one or more of the classes. A minimum of 14 riders competed in each of the 28 categories. Many of the entrants were from nearby areas including members of the Peacock Riding Club, Tustin; the Irvine Equestrian Center, Corona del Mar; and the Hurst and River Oaks Ranches, San Juan Capistrano.

JODY DEAN — high point winner of the Western Division is presented with a braided rawhide head stall and reins by Todd Rurrick. Jody qualified for the honor by winning first place in three events and one third place. Jody scored the highest average overall "Teeny Bopper."

The Mission Viejo Equestrian Center will be the site for the upcoming community Christmas celebration held throughout the month of December. The format for this year’s festivities will be similar to those of previous years.

The first night of Christmas will feature Santa’s arrival and the lighting of the lighting of the community Christmas tree Sunday, December 2. Sunday, December 9, Santa’s Workshop will officially open. The third night, Saturday, December 15, will be highlighted by the annual “Snowball” where entertainment will include the dance band of Johnny Anello and the famed comedy team of Hudson and Landry.

The fourth night of Christmas is Wednesday, December 19 and a candle light parade is on the agenda. The final night of festivities is Monday, December 24 and the annual Luminary (lighting of sand candles) will be staged.

Tickets for the dance, which are on sale at $15 per couple, are limited. Call the Montanoso Recreation Center for further information, 837-4084.

FIESTA DE HIACENDA

A Holiday Home Tour and Boutique, sponsored by the Mission Viejo Beautiful Committee, will highlight the community’s Christmas festivities Saturday, December 1.

Between 6 and 9:30 p.m., guests will be provided with a program and map to tour several homes within the community especially decorated for the holiday season. Throughout the day residents are invited to visit a boutique at the Deane Swim and Racquet Club where various artists within the community will display and sell items ideal for home decorating during the Christmas season.

During the day we’ve attempted to offer this type of program to residents of Mission Viejo, said Jeannie Gagnebin, chairman of the program. “We’re certain that those taking the tour will find it exciting.”

Each of the homes featured in the tour will enable residents to gather interesting ideas for their own homes. Featured in the tour will be the homes of Phil and Valley Reilly, Art and Wendy Edgren, Tom and Corky Stout, Jim and Kris Maas and Dave and Marie McDougall.

After the tour is completed, guests are invited to return to the Deane Swim and Racquet Club where refreshments will be served.

Tickets for the event are $3 per couple or $1.50 per person. For further information contact Jeannie Gagnebin, 837-3635; Kris Maas, Mission Viejo Las Botanacas, 837-7174; Carol Stiglbauser, Las Margaritas Women’s Club, 831-2870; or Marie McDougall, Casta del Sol, 830-0206.

Proceeds from the Fiesta De Hacienda will finance awards given to residents by the “Bountiful Committee” in the future.

What was once a dream between two young men serving in the Navy, became a reality recently when Jim Gundelach and Steve Keem opened the Red Clay Pot at the Plaza Viejo Shopping Center.

The two owners who are both lab technicians, enjoy a dual business. In the back of the store is a dental lab which is designed to serve the laboratory needs of dentists throughout Southern Orange County. The front of the shop is strictly pottery and macrame goods, however, the two some plan to expand their merchandise selection in the future.

“We welcome community residents to bring their craft items by the store so we can help sell them,” said Gundelach. “We will be happy to display any type of craft whether it's leather goods, pottery, macrame, decorative wall hangings, or anything else along that line. We think it's a great way to offer the public goods in a variety of styles and designs and, at the same time, help the artist establish some notoriety within the community.”

Gundelach noted that the goods would be sold on a consignment basis.

Owners of the Red Clay Pot are willing to take custom orders. “We don’t have a catalog as such,” said Keem; “however, if someone is looking for a particular item we’ll do our best to find it for them.”

The Red Clay Pot, located on the upper level of the new center, is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The owners noted that the shop would soon be open weekends as well.

Blackjack — being dealt here by John Noble, is only one of the casino games which will be played at the upcoming Casino de Seville, Saturday, November 17. The upstairs Grand Ballroom of the Hilton Inn, has been reserved for the occasion which includes a menu of Roast Baron of Beef served buffet style at 8:30 p.m. Entertainment will be provided for the dancing and listening pleasure of the 200 guests and several door prizes will be awarded throughout the evening. Tickets, which are on sale at $15 per couple, will not be sold after November 10. Proceeds from the event will go toward a teenage recreational facility in the Seville neighborhood. The center will include a dance pad, lighted volleyball and basketball courts and picnic tables. Other members of the Seville Homeowners Association represented here, (left to right) are Jean and Larry Brennanman and Carole Fish. For ticket information call 830-3347 or 586-2685.

What Thanksgiving Means to Me

Second graders at O’Neill School helped to capture the true Thanksgiving feeling by submitting their version of “what Thanksgiving means to me” to the Mission Viejo Reporter. Even though only a few could be used for the November issue, all 28 students followed the directions of their teacher Nancy Stuckhouse very carefully so everyone would know exactly how they felt about the meaning of Thanksgiving.

CO-OWNERS OF THE RED CLAY POT — Steve Keem (left) and Jim Gundelach, check over new pottery items they received to add to the store's inventory. In addition to an assortment of decorative items, the two young proprietors operate a dental lab in the rear of the shop.

CASTA DEL SOL...SCENE

The first official practice session of the new swim team being formed in the community was held Monday, October 29.

Under the direction of coach Dave Baron and assistant Patti Leon, members work out in the recreation center's 25-yard, six-lane pool designed for competitive swimming.

The new team, which will be named at a future date, will operate under the direction of Nadadores of Mission Viejo, California. The Nadadores which was formed in 1968, has achieved national honors and world credits for its outstanding efforts. The new swim club is planning to host its first swim meet, an invitational, during Christmas vacation where Nadadores team members will participate.

Monthly training fees for the swim club members is $6 for recreation members, $8 for Mission Viejo residents and $10 for residents outside the community.

ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE MAKES YULETIDE PLANS

The second meeting of the Mission Viejo, Colorado, Activities Committee was held Thursday, October 4, to plan various activities throughout the December holiday season.

Tentatively planned is a trio of tree lighting ceremonies and Christmas carols, the arrival of Santa Claus and a brief fireworks display the evening of Sunday, December 2. A candle lighting parade with the community's youngsters concluded by a live manger scene is slated for Saturday, December 15, and Saturday, December 22, will be the date of the Christmas ball to be held at the recreation center.

The Mission Viejo Fire Department, Cherry Creek High School choral group and possibly the high school band will all participate in the festive activities.

Those attending the meeting were Messrs. and Mmes. Jerry Bannister, David Epperson, Dick Fugger, James Hindman, Roger Stein, Lewis Wehunt and Mr. John Edens.

The committee invites any community resident to join the organization to aid in planning activities for the entire family throughout the year.

WOMEN'S CLUB ENJOYS SUCCESS

The Women's Club of Mission Viejo, Colorado, has held an active schedule since its inception last April, with social events every first Friday of the month and a general meeting each third Friday.

Recently the group gathered at the Country Dinner Playhouse where many members and their guests enjoyed an exciting presentation of "A Shot in the Dark."

Soon to be added to the agenda, is a combination wine testing/fashion show party which will be held Friday evening, November 2, at poolside within the recreation center complex.

CHAMPAGNE SERVED AT FASHION SHOW

A champagne fashion show is one of the highlights on the November calendar for Casta del Sol residents.

Saturday, November 3, at 4 p.m., fashions from Bobby's of Laguna Hills will be featured for both men and women. The event will be on holiday and cruise ideas.

In addition to champagne, finger sandwiches prepared by the recreation staff will be served. Tickets, at $2 per person, are currently on sale at the recreation center office. For further information call 837-6921.

CASTA DEL SOL...PERFECT COMPROMISE

The purchase of Cal and Marion Vincent's Casta del Sol home was a compromise. "I love the sea and Cal likes the mountains," said Mrs. Vincent. "Casta del Sol is perfect for us because we're only a few miles from the beach and our home is situated on top of a hill with views of beautiful mountains all around us."

The couple decided upon the Helena model, a roomy two bedroom plus den, as they often enjoy having friends and family stay at their new home.

For the past 30 years Cal has served as a tug boat captain and pilot for the Los Angeles Harbor at Long Beach. Some of the ships he and his crew have brought into the harbor have been over 920 feet long.

Marion Vincent has worked for Security Pacific National Bank since 1964 and currently works for the bank on a part-time basis giving her more time to enjoy her new home and the couple's hobbies.

Marion relaxes at her Hammond organ, often entertaining friends and family. It is something she does times just for her own enjoyment. Cal treasures clocks. In addition to making them, he's also collected several, one of which dates back to 1866. The clock is still in perfect working order as Cal checks all his clocks daily.

Together Cal and Marion have more to do than they have time. We play golf, swim and ride our bikes up and down the hills," said Cal. "At first we couldn't make it up a hill but we've worked at it and we do it all the time now."

"We both enjoy the planned activities at the recreation center. "There's always something interesting to do," said Mrs. Vincent. "The only trouble is finding enough time to do everything!"
