Mission Viejo Takes First Census

Construction to Start on Junior High

Following the opening of bids on the La Paz Intermediate School on Sept. 19, Ralph A. Gates, superintendent of the San Joaquin School District, told the Reporter that he expected groundbreaking for the new Mission Viejo school to take place in mid-October. It should come shortly after the meeting of the State Finance Committee on the second Tuesday of the month, possibly two days later, which would be Columbus Day.

The school, to be located across the street from Mission Viejo High School, should be completed in 300 calendar days. This would mean it should be finished in August, which would be in time for the new Mission Viejo High School to open in September.

A $23,800 donation from Mission Viejo Co. to Oso Valley County Service Area No. 9 has been accepted by the Orange County Board of Supervisors. Supervisor Alton E. Allen stated that the gift demonstrates the development company's interest in lowering the tax rate of the service area, which was established to provide extended county services to Mission Viejo residents.

Allen said the gift will reduce the anticipated service area rate by about one-third, from $97 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and will permit an adequate landscape maintenance program.

British, Irish, Scotch, Welsh
Planners Praise Mission Viejo

Sixty-seven members of Great Britain's Town Planning Institute were in Orange County Sept. 27th to inspect one of this country's most outstanding planned communities, Mission Viejo.

The group included city planners, housing officials, architects, engineers, surveyors, and teachers from Britain, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Among the dignitaries were the president of the group, Wilfrid Burns, C.B.E., and two past presidents, E. H. Doubleday, O.B.E., and L. W. Lane.

After touring our community, the group lunched in the Mission Viejo Inn. In the press conference that followed, the three leaders told television, radio, and newspaper reporters that the community's "quality landscaping, grass, trees, and shrubs," impressed them most.

Doubleday, the tour leader, had visited Mission Viejo just 15 months ago. He described the growth since as "fantastic" and praised "the sheer variety of designs of your beautiful homes."

Burns noted that when a community grows so fast, "it can only be done well when it is done by one body, a development company in our case, the government in our country."

WHAT'S GOING ON ALONG OSO CREEK? Mission Viejo residents, especially those who have golfed recently, have undoubtedly been asking themselves that very question as they see a dozen (count 'em) or more huge pieces of earth-moving equipment working furiously along the west bank of the creek. One answer would be "one million cubic yards of dirt are being moved, a $400,000 grading job." A more meaningful answer to residents is "sites are being prepared for the Mission Viejo Recreation Center and the community's fourth elementary school — and Montara Drive is being extended to join Oso Parkway with Estancia Drive."

Target date for completion of the road is February, 1968.

CENSUS TAKERS — Mission Viejo Census Supervisor Marty Russo goes over the plan of attack with the Mission Viejo Youth Club's census coordinating committee (l. to r.): Sue Rowell, Wendy Rasmussen, Laura Eubanks, Doug Miller, and Joan Griesbaum.

Prepare for Rainy Days

Southern California's rainy season is approaching. A check now may save you some inconvenience later. Check these items:

1. Have you changed any grading on your lot? When you purchased your home, the lot drained properly. Be sure that you have not blocked the drainage.
2. Are the concrete slope drains clean and water-free?
3. Is the water flow controlled near steps and walks? If you are planning any drainage devices, it would be advisable to have them completed by Dec. 1.

Nose-Counting Days

Sep't. 30, Oct. 7, 14

How many of us Mission Viejo residents are there? We'll soon know the exact number, for our first census is being taken on the consecutive Saturdays, Sept. 30, Oct. 7, and Oct. 14.

The census was announced in the September issue of the Reporter by Mission Viejo Co. President Philip J. Reilly, who explained: "Our community has grown from nothing to perhaps 3,000 people in less than 18 months. We can determine how many homes have been occupied, but we do not know how many children and a family, how many are of school age, and how many were born here."

Why are the answers to such questions significant? Reilly gave the reasons when he announced the census dates in mid-September:

"When you are planning and creating a development as vast as Mission Viejo, the most careful projections and estimates are nowhere near as reliable as the actual facts. This census will give us those facts.

"It will tell us in numerical terms exactly what types of families have been attracted to Mission Viejo.

"The most important single result will be that everyone will be able to plan more effectively for the community's development. And by 'everyone' I mean not only the Mission Viejo Co. staff and participating builders, but also county agencies; school, water, and industrial firms considering Mission Viejo.

"Helping in the nose-counting job are Mission Viejo Youth Club members, who are earning money for their organization. Mission Viejo Planning Assistant Marty Russo, census supervisor, indicates that residents can recognize the authorized census-takers by the introductory letter they present before asking questions.

"Russo appealed to all residents to cooperate with the census takers who are asking 'a bare minimum of easily answered, non-personal questions.'"

Census-taking hours are from 10 to 4 on the first two Saturdays. The third Saturday will be used to call back on the not-at-homes. Families which are not home on any of the Saturdays will be contacted during the final week.

At Reilly indicated when the census was announced, the official total will be posted at the community entrance and will be periodically updated.
Art Oct. Theme at La Paz Plaza

Three different art shows involving several dozen artists and well over 1,000 paintings will turn La Paz Plaza into an art-lovers' paradise in October. Announcing art as the October theme for the shopping center, William T. Wells, president of the La Paz Plaza Merchants Assn., said:

"We believe that our beautiful little shopping center can serve as both a cultural and recreational asset to the community, in addition to its commercial-service function. So, we are planning a continuing series of various types of events which we believe local residents will find rewarding and enjoyable."

Leading off the October parade of art shows is the Laguna Hills Art Assn. with a one-day display on Saturday, Oct. 7. Mrs. Ethel Mabie, president of the group, promises an amazing display of work from Leisure World and elsewhere.

Lengthiest exhibit of the month will be the three-day event, Friday--Sunday, Oct. 15, staged by Arts and Crafts of San Clemente. Madeleine Richard, chairman of the event, indicates that 30 artists will participate, each contributing 8 to 12 works.

On the following week-end, Mission Viejo's own professional artist, Mrs. Mary Storm, brings in a group of professional artists with several hundred paintings. Mrs. Storm states that the local artists will be the group to be full-time professionals, any local artist is welcome to join the exhibit.

Millions of Margaritas!

That much-copied Mission Viejo International Pitcher Tournament, the pitcher of Margaritas, has proved so popular that the local arts and crafts blinder "completely wore out in just six months," report Manager Tommy Mitchell.

"Most Advanced Lighting Showroom" Opened, Offers Residents Discounts

What is believed to be the nation's most advanced lighting fixture showroom, Mission Viejo Lighting in Santa Ana, was opened to the public in late September after serving serving decorators and builders exclusively for several months.

At the opening, Zika Z. Djkovick, the designer who designed, built, and operates the unique establishment, explained that the company name is one of the contributions of his long-time, semi-silent partner in the lighting business, Richard O'Neill, a member of the O'Neill family, owners of Rancho Mission Viejo.

Zika (no one attempts to use his last name) announced at the opening that he has devoped a special trade-in discussion agreement for Mission Viejo residents.

Next to the Santa Ana City Hall, at 211 N. Main St., Mission Viejo Lighting embodies several "firsts" in fixture display, making it the most adcanced lighting showroom in the country. Constantly growing, the array of 1,000 fixtures will soon number 1,500, making it the largest in Southern California.

Even more unique than the showroom are the types of fixtures and services offered. A designer-engineer-manufacturer-artisan who has graduated from both the Sorbonne and the Conservatoire de National de Arts et Metiers, Paris, Zika has worked in the factories of Europe's leading suppliers to the lighting industry. As a result he has world-wide knowledge and contacts with the industry and is able to design and manufacture -- virtually any type of fix-ture. His many unique lines include some he has manufactured himself, others he can build or customize a fixture according to his large shop.

Of special interest to Mission Viejo residents is the fact he designs, builds, and displays unique street lights and works with Mission Viejo Co. of-cial to obtain a variance from the electric power company to use the lights.

No Trash-passing

Members of the La Paz Plaza Merchants Assn. are asking all Mission Viejo parents to frequently remind their children that "every litter bit hurts."

The already handsome shopping center, which is being made more beautiful via weekly clean-ups, is swept daily. Yet, it is almost constant chock full with mini-trash (bubble gum wrappers and such) dropped by many little hands.

To guide these little hands to -- not past -- the Plaza's proper places for litter, more and bigger trash receptacles are being installed.

Winter Recreation Program Studied

Mission Viejo's summer recreation program was so well received by local residents that its sponsor, Mission Viejo Co.-Crest-Homeowners Assn., will be held in November at the high school, reports Temporary Chairman Jeff Lodder. At the meeting, the by-laws will be presented to the membership for approval and the first steps will be taken to elect a permanent board of directors, Lodder said. The meeting date has not yet been set.

In late September, the 25-man temporary steering committee met to review papers for incorporating the group, as well as final by-law.

Information on the association's future will be available at the meeting.

Referrals Big La Paz Factor

You don't have to know somebody to buy a La Paz Home, but apparently it really helps, according to figures released in September by George Jupin, sales manager for Mission Viejo Co.

Jupin said that an in-depth motivation study of 100 La Paz residents conducted by an independent research firm revealed that 48 percent of the sales came through referrals.

"We always suspected that the referral factor was high because so many of the sales which came to our attention were to people who had been recommended," Jupin said.

"To cite but one example, we never suspected, however, that virtually half of the sales were to people who had been referred by an uncle who had purchased a La Paz Home earlier."

Sales Rapid At Deane Homes

With the sales pace continuing at 1½ homes per day, two units of Deane Homes, Mission Viejo have reached milestones.

The 7th unit, which will be ready for occupancy in January, is already 90 percent sold out by the 6th unit, which will be ready for occupancy next month, is 75 percent sold out.

The announcement of the sales achievements was made by Nigel Bailey, newly named sales manager for Deane Homes, Mission Viejo.

Bailey has replaced Don Schult at the Deane Brothers development. He has been with the Newport Beach builder-developer firm for the past two years, part of which time he spent as sales manager of Deane Homes, Diamond Point.

The winners of three major national awards for design, construction, and planning, La Paz Homes offer five floor plans in one-story, two-story and split-level models. Prices of the three- and four-bedroom homes range from $21,950 to $27,900.

Monterey Sales to New Firm

The appointment of First Trade-In Homes, Inc., as sales representatives for Monterey Homes in Mission Viejo has been announced by the builder.

The new sales agency, headed by Robert Jacobs, is introducing a trade-in program that has had considerable success in other sections of the country, he said.

The trade-in procedure involves three independent appraisals, one each by: a federally chartered savings and loan association, a member of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers, and the most active real estate broker in the community where the house to be traded is located, Jacobs disclosed.

Full details on the new trade-in service being offered at Monterey Homes may be obtained at the sales office.

Mission Viejo on Television

Mission Viejo became really big news on Wednesday, Sept. 27, when nearly 100 British, Scotch, Irish, and Welsh city planners, housing officials, architects, engineers, surveyors, teachers and wives inspected our community.

"Mission Viejo is one of the beautiful developments in the country," one of the visitors said.

"It's the best value around." Another planner observed.

The younger Lesher is a collection manager for Pacific Finance Co., operating out of the Orange County sales office. The prime reason for his choice of an Eldorado home: "It's the best value around."

Both the older Mrs. Lesher and the younger Mrs. Lesher agreed that the big thing in their choice of the Trevino was the living area-kitchen complex with all the windows Mrs. Thomas said she "just loves everything" about the model, but especially likes the spaciousness and the view of the yard provided by the windows in the living room, the family room, and the kitchen.

Agreeing with the Thomases and with each other were the seventh and eighth buyers, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thomas of P.C. Financial Valley, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Lesher of Van Nuys, who bought the model when it was ready for occupancy in January, 1968.

NO. 500 — The 500th purchaser of a La Paz Home, Mr. and Mrs. David Krojec of Garden Grove, receive a symbolic rendering of their home from their salesman, Bill Riley. As revealed in the September issue of the Reporter, an amazing coincidence was involved, the 500th home being sold on the 500th day the development was opened.

A young couple that waited 38 hours and spent two cramp- ed nights sleeping in a sedan in the parking lot and a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law who agreed on the same floor plan were among the 11 purchasers who bought homes in 35 minutes when Unit Three of Eldorado Homes opened Saturday, Sept. 2.

A total of 21 homes were sold during the grand opening weekend, reports George Jupin, general sales manager for Mission Viejo Co.

First of the Unit Three buyers were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thomas of Tustin, the "sodasleepers." The senior Lesher family in line, the Eric Cramers of Orange, waited 25 hours. Three other families, the Robert Millers of Huntington Beach, the Gene Shipley of Tustin, and the Wurdemanns of Van Nuyos, stayed overnight to get the homes of their choice on the lot of their choice.

Married two years, the Thomases have one child, a 10-month-old boy. They live in an apartment for their baby and another for the family to grow into. Mrs. Thomas said she "just loves everything" about the model, but especially likes the spaciousness and the view of the yard provided by the windows in the living room, the family room, and the kitchen.

Agreeing with the Thomases and each other were the seventh and eighth buyers, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thomas of P.C. Financial Valley, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Lesher of Van Nuys. Both also chose the Trevino.

The Thomases are members of the tooling department at North American Aviation's Augustine Div. in Anaheim. He and his wife had been looking at Mission Viejo homes for over a year, liked La Paz Homes, but thought the Eldorado models better suited their needs. One of their two grown sons lives with them on a part-time basis, Mrs. Lesher explained.

The younger Lesher is a collection manager for Pacific Finance Co., operating out of the Orange County sales office. The prime reason for his choice of an Eldorado home: "It's the best value around."

Both the older Mrs. Lesher and the younger Mrs. Lesher agreed that the big thing in their choice of the Trevino was the living area-kitchen complex with all the windows Mrs. Thomas liked so well.

The third unit of Eldorado Homes to be opened was Unit Two, bringing the total for the 4½-month-old development to 302 homes.
The hills are alive with the sounds of autumn. The winds today are whistling through the tree. There is one tree in my yard large enough for the wind to whistle through. Every home around my house has at least one full grown tree, but are we content with a straight diet of olives? An olive should just whet our appetites for more trees. Many hesitate to plant trees because of the views we enjoy, but let us not be afraid to revel in the glories of trees. Trees never spoil a view, but only enhance it. Trees increase your awareness of nature as the sun drifts and winds rush through nature's most magnificent thermometer. Plus, there is nothing that will increase our property value greater than trees afforded shade to your home and yard. Why don't we inaugurate an Arbor Day at M.V.?*

Mission Viejo High School has awakened not only to the tune of over 1000 minds buzzing, pages turning, bells ringing, feet running, skirt swinging, and girl watching—all in the name of education—but a sense of nature is unfolding. Hands outstretched to the campus proceeds. Olive, eucalyptus, and sycamore trees were planted this past month. The sprinkling system was in overdrive to finance the school day in the face of the drought. Olive, eucalyptus, and sycamore trees will increase our property value. "Old Fashioned" Church Picnic

"Come one, come all" is the invitation extended by Mount of Olives Lutheran Church to the community of Mission Viejo for its first annual picnic on October 15. Final plans had not been completed at press time but Rev. Robert Lange indicated the location would be at O'Neill Park or somewhere on the O'Neill Ranch. He said the time and location will be well publicized prior to the event. The picnic will be open to all students of the Sunday school and church members and friends in the community. It will be a real old-fashioned picnic with all kinds of planned activities, games and prizes, he revealed. "We hope everyone will turn out for a grand fellowship. Families attending should bring enough food for themselves plus either a dessert or a salad. The church will furnish coffee and punch and a special treat for children, he said.

Church Classes Offered

Several instructional classes are underway at Mount of Olives Lutheran Church in an expanded fall program, according to Rev. Robert H. Lange, pastor. Catechistic instruction is being offered to members of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades on Mondays on the following schedule: 9th grade, 3:00-4:00 p.m.; 7th grade, 6:30-7:30 p.m.; and 8th grade, 6:30-7:30 p.m. Interest is growing in the adult and children Sunday school classes and the special Wednesday afternoon classes for high school students on "Love, Sex and Life," Pastor Lange reported.

Youth Club Plans

At its September 19 meeting, the Mission Viejo Youth Club planned a number of Fall service projects and entertainment excursions. Included were; donations for Fairview, an orphanage; taking a group of orphans to the zoo; gathering fresh fruit for the orphans in Tijuana; Christmas cards in homes for the aged; taking a group to a movie, drama, or musical in Los Angeles; going to Methodist in Anaheim; attending some entertainment event at the convention center in Anaheim.

Deane Teens Go Into Match Biz

"Matchmaker, matchmaker, make me a match," is currently the favorite song of the teen-age members of Deane Homes Swim & Racquet Club. Wrong. Miss Edgerly, who lives with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Edgerly, at 25032 Spadra Ln., keeps her collection on a closet shelf, having won everything from blue ribbons to honorable mentions in each of her six previous showings. Her collection of over 200 dolls includes many in foreign and period costumes. She makes clothes for all the dolls, which she keeps in doll cabinets in her living room, sewing room, and bedroom.

Fashion Show Is Huge Hit

More than 40 feminine residents—from toddlers to adults—modeled home-sewn fashions at the Mission Viejo Women's Club fall fashion show, Sept. 12, at the Deane Homes Swim & Racquet Club. Top winners in the children's, junior's, and adults' divisions were little Lisa Baird, Miss Casey McGowen, and Mrs. Roger Burton, each receiving a $10 gift certificate. The panel of judges included Mrs. Virginia McWilliams, Swim & Racquet Club counselor; Mrs. Martha McCaugh, owner of Carriage Trade Fabrics; and Rev. R. H. Lange, pastor of Mount of Olives Lutheran Church in Mission Viejo.

Mrs. Bill Huffman, the program chairman, was the commentator.

Two golf tournaments were held for Mission Viejo Men's Club members on the second weekend in September and Dale Ward, 26541 Estaniero Road, won both of them.

On Saturday, Sept. 9, the Men's Club held a Best-of-Fourteen tourney with members making up their own foursomes. The easy winners with a low, low 74 were Ward, Chuck Wilson, Joe Byrne, and Chuck Vogel.

The big trophy winner was Ward, a grandfather of two, winning handily with a net 62. Runner-up was Jim Harris with a net 67, Chuck Wilson, a member of the winning four-some, last day, finished third, carding a net 69.

Willetts Qualifies for Olympic Team

His coaching duties have been assumed by Dee Guarnere, Dave Cameron, and Joe Murphy.

Tourney Director

A new tournament director has been hired by Mission Viejo Golf Club, reports Head Pro Ed Wampler. The new man, Ed added, has a very appropriate name, Bill Mulligan.

Coach Andrews Sees Definite Improvement

A "definitely improved" Diablo football team will be fielded by Mission Viejo High School in its second year, reports Head Coach Dave Andrews.

With nine lettermen back and a crop of new gridders good enough to bump more than half the lettermen from the first team, Andrews obviously has some scheme planned to back up his optimistic outlook.

But, there's more than just the material. Andrews is especially pleased with the team morale, reporting that "the boys have a good attitude. They are working hard and really have come to play football.

Andrews biggest problems relate to numbers — the size of his squad and of the school. His position is somewhat like that of the wage-earner who finds himself with less take-home pay after a raise boosted him into a higher tax bracket.

Last year, little M. V. H. S. played in the Orange League, a Class A league for smaller schools. But the student body grew so rapidly that this year it is bumping helmets two rungs higher up the league ladder, in the Triple A Crestview League, where many of the schools are twice the size of Mission Viejo.

Andrews, is going to have to take his 30-man squad up against teams with as many as 30 players.

"This means," he said, that most of our boys will have to play both offense and defense. We are going to have to play very heavily on our starting eleven, plus about eight substitutes.

Averaging 174 lbs., the starting backfield consists of quarterback Jerry Glotzer, 160, Tustin, halfback Rich Boehme, 165, Mission Viejo, halfback Ray Robbins, 185, Tustin, and fullback Tom Wilson, 185, Tustin.

Four of the starting eleven are lettermen: Limberg, Monatry, Nicol and Wilson. The other five lettermen, who will form the team's line substitutes, are halfbacks George Dicks and Mark Doane, fullbacks Wayne Shaffer, and end Tom Cummings.

Open House At Mount of Olives

Observance of the 450th Anniversary of the Protestant Reformation on October 29 will be marked by an open house at Mount of Olives Lutheran Church in Mission Viejo, the Rev. Robert H. Lange, pastor, announced.

All Lutheran churches are taking part in the commemoration of this signal event in Protestant history, Rev. Lange disclosed. All members of Protestant faiths are invited to attend the open house observance, he said.

Presbyterian Church Sends Minister to Mission Viejo

Reverend Richard M. Bush, appointed by the Presbytery of Los Angeles to be organizing minister for a Presbyterian Church in Mission Viejo, has moved into a home in Deane Homes, Mission Viejo in late September.

Rev. Bush came to Mission Viejo from Madera, Calif., where he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Arthur T. Bailey, director of new church development of the Presbytery of Los Angeles, advised the Reporter that Rev. Bush would immediately proceed with a program for starting the new church.

Earlier this year, a site for the church was purchased. It is located at the northwest corner of the future intersection of Oso Parkway and Marguerite Parkway.

Rev. Lange Installed

At services on Sept. 17, before a congregation of nearly 200 people, the Rev. Robert H. Lange was formally installed as the first minister of Mount of Olives Lutheran Church, which was established as Mission Viejo’s first church late last year.

Following the installation, Rev. and Mrs. Lange were guests of the Church Council for dinner at the Mission Viejo Inn. The Council presented Rev. Lange with an attache case and a piece of luggage.
